Undertaker Requests Protection at Bier of Sacco and Vanzetti

CROWDS VIEW BODIES

Sightseeing Auto Buses Add Undertaking Shop, Headquarters to Itinerary

Boston, Aug. 25 — Crowds milled about the little undertaking shop of Joseph Langone on Hanover st today awaiting to view the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

A strong police detail was on hand to guard against disorder and storekeepers along the north end thoroughfare took the added precaution of boarding up their plate glass windows.

Scores were from nearby cities and towns, and hour by hour the crowds grew in size with the police having difficulty in keeping them moving.

Sightseeing auto buses added the undertaking shop and the Sacco-Vanzetti headquarters on Hanover-st as part of their itinerary.

At the same time police learned that they had an added problem on their hands in connection with the "march of sorrow" Sunday afternoon. Thousands will be parading through the north end in the St. Agrippini celebration.

Day and night guards of honor were chosen from among members of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee to stand at attention at the head of each bier.

Mrs. Rosa Sacco, wife of one of the men, and Miss Luigia Vanzetti, sister of the other, have not and will not view the bodies. Both women, who have gone to Mrs. Sacco's home in Malden, wish to remember their loved one as they knew him in life.

Unable To Rent Hall

The little funeral parlor had to be used for the public view of the men because the defense committee was balked in every attempt to hire a hall for the purpose.

The bodies will remain in the chapel with its religious surroundings until Sunday afternoon, at that time a speaker of national prominence will deliver a funeral oration. He will not be a clergyman.

From the chapel the bodies will be conveyed to North End Park, from which will start across the city a "march of sorrow."

Cremation Planned

Later following cremation, ashes of Sacco will be turned over to his widow. Ashes of Vanzetti will be carried to New York and thence home to Italy by his sister, under present tentative plans. A host of the country be a delegation carrying the ashes of both was still under discussion.

Every police force in Dedham were ordered out for Sunday afternoon as a large police of army chasers from across a rolling [illegible] and [illegible] were expected to view the funeral procession.

In New Bedford more than 10,000 persons viewed the body of Celestino Madeiros, who preceded Sacco and Vanzetti to the electric chair early last Tuesday morning.

Meanwhile Dr. H. P. Hill was called before Circuit authorities to explain what he knew of the movement of the log after Mrs. Hill was shot to death and burned in a side grave in the basement of her big brick home.

PAUL REDFERN IN ATTEMPT TO BREAK RECORDS

"Port of Brunswick" Gets Under Way Nicely Despite Tremendous Cargo

BEACH TAKE-OFF SCENE

Two Transatlantic Planes Take Air at Curtiss Field in First Jumps

Brunswick, Ga., Aug. 25—Paul Redfern, 25 year old Georgia pilot, hopped off at 12:41 p. m. eastern standard today on a long non-stop flight to Brazil.

The big monoplane, "Port of Brunswick," grounding under a tremendous load of gas soared along the beach at Gilynn Isle and then skimmed gracefully into the air, putting out to sea at a low altitude. It disappeared into the vast stretches of seas and mountains and jungles that bar the way to South America.

"Dead" Objective

Redfern expects to fly more than 80 hour for a new non-stop distance record above 4,000 miles. He hoped to land either at Rio De Janeiro or Pernambuco. His objective simply is "Brazil."

"The long flyer was cheerful and confident. As the moment of departure approached, there seemed no doubt in his mind that he could withstand the gruelling test of staying awake 30 odd hours and chatting a course over the treacherous Caribbean and the menacing jungles and forbidding mountains of Brazil.

The pretty young wife was there to bid him godspeed.

Officials On Hand

Members of the flight committee and city officials were at the hangar to shake his hand. Crowds of well-wishers cheered him from the sand dunes back of the gliderling beach.

Weather reports were encouraging.

If he wins he will make a new non-stop distance record and perhaps a new mark for continuous flight.

SHEEP ARE TREATED FOR STOMACH WORMS

Two Demonstrations Held by L. B. Fidler, Smith-Hughes Teacher

Two demonstrations of the method of treating sheep for stomach worms were given here yesterday by L. B. Fidler, vocational agriculture teacher of the Smith-Hughes school.

The demonstration was given at the farm of Mrs. Charles Hooker and Jay Jaeger, the other at Mr. Scott Dean's near Lone. In all 104 head of sheep and lambs were treated. Several sheepmen attended the demonstrations.

The method used was the blue copperas drench. This method has been recommended by D. S. Bell, head of the sheep department of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station, as one of the best.

Sheep owners who are losing lambs should consider the matter of treating their lambs more generally, as many lambs are fed at a very decided loss because of stomach worm infection, according to Fidler.

Shovel Shops Eliminate Eagles In Eight-Inning Fray

Both Teams Blow Sky High In Eighth Stanza After Breaking Even for Seven

Score Is Tied at 2 to 2 at End of Regular Scheduled Seven Innings; Shovels Make Three and Eagles Score Two in Extra Frame

BY BOB ELLIOTT

BATTLE [illegible] Shops and Eagles [illegible] the championship of Marion.

The Eagles, [illegible] of the first [illegible] Sterling Eagle to Percy Rice [illegible] disappointment of the [illegible] second defeat last night. The [illegible] fighting with their backs to the wall [illegible] way to the two out [illegible] brought in the [illegible] changed to the [illegible] Green.

Break Tie

With the score knotted at two [illegible] the seventh, the Shops [illegible] at bat over what looked to be the winning [illegible] on Snyder's [illegible], Norris' [illegible] bat [illegible] caught to center and Snyder's [illegible].

But the Eagles came back to tie the score. Eagle [illegible] was a life to the [illegible] only to be [illegible] out by Dee Snyder. Shirk [illegible] another hit to [illegible] Judd, Snyder going to [illegible]. After Rice Died to Virden, McDonough [illegible] ingly ended the game by sending a pop fly to Bowers. But—Bowers dropped it and the [illegible] were full.

Prazzo, running for Snyder, tied the score on Andrews muffed Bowers' throw to home.

Thrilling Climax

With the score again deadlocked, fans who were brave enough to face the cold weather without footwarmers, saw a thrilling climax added to what already was by far the best game of the Little World Series.

Three singles, an error and a sacrifice fly combined with two long triples scored the Shovels' three runs in the eighth. Eagles made a bid for the tilt by counting two runs in their half on Ed Price's triple, Glen Price's sacrifice fly, two Shovel errors, and two infield hits. But with the tying run on second, "Buck" Shirk ended the game by grounding to Thomas.

Norris, Powell and Snyder featured with the stick for the Shovels, Norris connecting for three out of five while Powell and Snyder each hit safely twice. Every man on the Shovel team got at least one hit except Little. Fogle was the only Eagle to get to

HELEN WILLS FAVORITE TO BEAT MRS. MALLORY

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 25—With the women's national lawn tennis championship tournament virtually half completed, [illegible] upsets or reversals in form have occurred to indicate that the ultimate struggle for the title would not be between Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, defending champion, and Miss Helen Wills of California, Wimbledon champion, who was forced to relinquish the American title last year on account of sickness. And Miss Wills, the longer the tournament continues, becomes a more overwhelming favorite to defeat Mrs. Mallory.

Harmon and Cunningham Winners in Only Matches of Meet

J. H. Harmon defeated Bob Schott, 7-5, 6-1, and Ted Cunningham won from W. F. Pendell, 6-0, 6-0, in the only two matches run off in the Marion city tennis tourney last night. Cold weather stopped several other planned matches.

It will be almost impossible to finish the first round of games in the city tourney this week, due to the reverses suffered as a couple of inclement weather. Twenty matches remain to be played.

Forty-four have entered the tournament, the winner to receive a silver trophy cup awarded by the Medway Grocery.

Eagles Will Sponsor Cage Team Here; Bacon Manager

PRELIMINARY steps in arranging to sponsor a basket ball team in Marion this winter, were made at the regular meeting of Rutledge Aerie No. 227, Order of Eagles, at the Eagle temple, last night.

The announcement made at the meeting revealed that the team will play professional ball and will not enter any of the various leagues here in the city. Plans are being made for the Eagles team to play some of the best professional teams in the state.

Francis M. Bacon, present owner of the Van Sweringen Oriental Pet, Mr. Gard, and formerly personnel director of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., will be manager of the proposed aggregation. Upon his suggestion, the action to sponsor the team was taken.

Bacon Manager

Bacon has an excellent record in amateur circles in Marion, having managed the city championship basket ball team, the Marion Steam Shovels, the Marion Athletics.

A committee selected at the meeting was ordered to confer with Bacon at once for the coming season. The committee is composed of V. V. Brick, C. D. Decker and Fred Bates.

Some of the best professional players in this section of the state will probably be employed each night when the team plays its home games. Games will be played at home the greater part of the season.

Eagles Will Meet Lima In Second Series Game Sunday

MARION EAGLES will journey to Lima Sunday for the second of a three-game series with the Lima Independents. The third contest is scheduled for Lincoln Park, Labor Day.

The Eagles, then the Marion Athletics three Sundays ago gave Lima the shock of the season by knocking off Lima in a 10-inning contest featured by brilliant playing on both sides. Marion fans who saw the game will readily admit that Lima is the best team to face Marion this season, with the possible exception of Toledo Mercer Motors, who have won three out of five from the local club.

ALL OIL PRODUCTION RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Report on Year Announced by Department of Commerce

Washington, Aug. 25—All records for the production of crude oil were broken in the United States last year, the bureau of mines in the department of commerce announced today.

The American petroleum production in 1926, the bureau announced, amounted to 770,873,000 barrels, exceeding all previous records. This total represented an increase of 74,153,000 barrels over the 1925 output.

"The major portion of the increase," the bureau declared, "was recorded in Texas. Production in California, the leading petroleum state, dropped off approximately 9 million barrels, but Oklahoma registered a gain of about 2,500,000 barrels and established a new record. The most important fields from the standpoint of new production were Spindletop (deep sand) and Darst Creek in Texas and Ventura Avenue and Huntington Beach in California. The most important discoveries of the year were the Seminole fields in Oklahoma and the Seal Beach pool in California."

The bureau announced that imports of crude petroleum amounted to 60,-000,000 barrels in 1926, a slight decrease over the preceding year. Sharp increases in oil imports from Mexico, it was stated, were nearly offset by increased imports from South American countries.

Indiana Waiting for September To Come, Scheduled Date of Explosion; Grand Jurors Meeting Three Days a Week To Read Letters

WILLIAM H. JEMY, MARION COUNTY PROSECUTOR.

NEA
BY DONITA WITT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 25.—Indiana, [illegible] Ku Klux Klan, [illegible] Indianapolis. The state, prepared to hold the [illegible] and disgrace of D. C. Stephenson, erstwhile grand dragon, now serving life in the Michigan prison for slaying Miss Madge Oberholtzer, [illegible] Hanna, and his associates, [illegible] Indiana public [illegible] teachers [illegible] of employment.

Indiana has been waiting for September to be recorded there as an explosive month. By the absence of Hanna, who has been all the grand jurors have been meeting three days a week to read the documents the boys contain, most of Stephenson's attorneys told the writer. "I know the prosecutor knows, and the grand jurors know, that all the desperate [illegible] in the Klan history of corruption will be [illegible] before all the material will be turned over to them."

Silence as to Contents.

No definite [illegible] has come from the grand jury room concerning the exact [illegible] they have been perusing. Whether the letters contain information of sufficient import to enable the state to bring to criminal indictments [illegible] to be seen.

Several persons close to Stephenson [illegible] that the former Klan grand dragon, exiling to his cell at Michigan City, threatening to tumble down state and city officials from the seats to which he avers he raised them, thinks he has in his possession documents which in reality no longer are where and with whom he once placed them. Stephenson's friends insist he has been "double crossed and left out" by folk who have "peddled" documents with which he entrusted them.

However, they assert, there still plenty of "fireworks" left to "bust Indiana politics wide open" when the grand jury makes its report.

In recent weeks, Stephenson's lawyers have intensified their efforts to obtain his release from prison. If the state supreme court does not act within a "reasonable" length of time on the appeal of his conviction now before the court his lawyers may file a new petition which one of the lawyers declares "will contain some startling disclosures."

Clarence Beagdon, a Muncie attorney connected with the case, says his client was not on the trip to Hammond, Ind., which resulted in the subsequent death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, and as the result of which Stephenson was sentenced to life imprisonment. He intimates that the names of several prominent Hoosiers may be mentioned in a new petition as having been members of the party which went to Hammond.

Dubbed the "Jake Chief"

Lloyd O. Hill, Stephenson's Indianapolis attorney, calls [illegible] personally intimate with the dispute grand dragon who now [illegible]

Beautiful in design—thoroughly modern—mechanically right

The "Flash and Fire Test," to which motor oils are subjected by large buyers, measures the temperatures at which an oil vaporizes sufficiently to flash or to burn. This indicates the degree of heat which the oil will stand in your motor.

Remember, oil is a lubricant—not a fuel! It is vitally important that it should not evaporate excessively, or break-down, at the bearing temperatures of your motor.

High Flash and Fire Test

Another Reason Why Tiolene Motor Oil Lasts Longer!

MOTORISTS who use Tiolene Motor Oil regularly, know that it lasts longer—goes farther, safely! But why does it outlast other oils?

One reason why Tiolene lubricates longer is that it will withstand greater heat without excessive evaporation, or burning. An oil's ability to resist heat can be measured before it is used by the "flash and fire" test. This test reveals in Tiolene, the wonderful stamina which so distinguishes it in actual use.

Oils with lower flash and fire test, evaporate quickly—even in your motor's crankcase—and are lost through the breather pipe. When subjected to the heat about the pistons, they partly burn, and either leave carbon on the piston head or pass out through the exhaust. Such oils cannot withstand the terrific heat of your motor and "use up" quickly. You have to keep adding oil and the resulting mixture soon becomes heat-worn, lifeless, and has to be drained often. You use more oil—you spend more money.

A high "flash and fire" test is one of the outstanding qualities of pure Pennsylvania motor oil. Tiolene is "pure Pennsylvania" and more. It is 100% Super-Pennsylvania Motor Oil, for it is skillfully refined from Cabin Creek Crude—a super-Pennsylvania grade.

The super quality in Tiolene assures you of supreme performance—more miles per fill!

Tiolene Motor Oil is sold at Pure Oil Company Service Stations and by Authorized Dealers.

This remarkable varnish stain excels in 3 ways...

Drop in and let us prove it to your satisfaction...

The Color Test: Fifty experts chose Mirrolac as the line of colors that reproduced most closely their conception of the true hardwood tones.

The Application Test: Under an actual brushing test you will find that Mirrolac flows freely, and shows no laps or brush marks.

The Durability Test: Apply varnish stain to a metal panel. Bend it over a straight edge. Then straighten and examine it. An inefficient varnish stain will be badly cracked. The surface of Devoe Mirrolac will remain unbroken also. This bending test proves the elasticity and durability of the product.

Do you wonder that we guarantee it to give satisfaction when applied according to directions.

RICHMAN'S fine all wool CLOTHES

Machine Sewing

The Sixth of a Series on Richman Manufacturing Methods

Since the production of ALL clothing, not excepting that advertised as "hand-tailored," depends largely upon machine sewing, the Richman factories are fully equipped with the latest improved machines of every type — machines developed through many years' experiment to perform each operation with the greatest possible precision

These machines operated by skilled stock owning workers produce perfectly smooth, silk stitched seams of uniform strength and with absolute fidelity to the lines of each garment, as originally designed and cut There is no finer machine sewing than that produced in the Richman factories — and hand work is employed in every operation where it is essential

Consider Quality as Well as Price

Men who have experienced the satisfaction of wearing Richman's Clothes do not compare them with any others sold at a similar price—instead, they have learned to expect of Richman's Clothes the smart style, rich woolens and fine tailoring ordinarily found only in clothes sold at very much higher figures — Richman's constantly growing sales volume is eloquent proof that they are not disappointed.

All $22.50

Richman's Clothes are all one price—$22 50 for your choice of any suit in our stores, any day in the year.

The amazing value in Richman's Clothes is made possible only through an unparalleled combination of buying producing and marketing advantages—the buying power of huge cash resources —the economies of scientific production, in our own great factories with 2000 stockholding workers to insure quality and efficiency—the saving of all middlemen's profits by our direct from factory sales policy

CRUMBLING BUILDINGS WORRYING LONDON

Nearly All London's Famous Structures Suffering from Decay

London Aug 25—Why do London's buildings crumble?

Every year the masonry of hundreds of buildings crumbles away and tens of thousands are spent in patching up their fronts

Nearly all London's most famous buildings are suffering from decay Westminster Abbey is never free from scaffolding and pieces of stone fall every day from the Houses of Parliament

The Department of Scientific and Industrial Research has appointed a committee to investigate the cause of the trouble and if possible find a solution So far the Committee has studied the cause of the decay but has been unable to find a remedy

The chief destroying cause of crumbling are the sulphurous acid in London atmosphere through the use of coal fuel the close rainwater (which contains carbonic acid sulphuric acid and in some cases) and the presence of bacteria and small plants in the stone Some of the bacteria and plants are in the stone before it is quarried

The material mainly used in London buildings—especially of older type is limestone which easily decays from the effects of acid The sulphur compounds in the air mix with the lime and the combination causes the decay

So far no remedy for this decay has been discovered

MEMORIALS ABROAD

Ohio Soldiers in Buckeye Division to be Honored in France

Columbus, Aug 25—Ohio soldiers who served in France and Belgium as members of the 37th or Buckeye division are to be honored by the state by the erection of three memorials in France and Belgium where the division served

A battle commission has designated a memorial bridge over the Escaut river at Eyaue, Belgium; a clock tower at Montfaucon, France, and a memorial arch at Hattonchatel, France as the three monuments to commemorate the division's service during the world war.

The funds for the purpose were obtained by transferring $80,000 from the late lamented Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial fund, and adding a later appropriation of $70,000

Ohio architects competed with designs. The work is to be submitted to French and Belgian engineers, and under the direction of a local advisory architect at the memorial location.

People Who Never Get Sick

Writing in the September Forum Dr J Madison Taylor of Philadelphia physician and professor of medicine at Temple university tells of a most remarkable Himalaya tribe the members of which are never ill

Dr Taylor seeks to show that much of our sickness is due to the fact that we do not live natural lives in accordance with ideal conditions If we could have placed before us "exhibits" of such peoples he says no scholastic recommendations could compare with such demonstrations Unfortunately such peoples are few and rapidly disappearing though within recent years a few small isolated tribes have been found who do so live subsisting on ideal kinds and forms of life Continuing Dr Taylor says

The most picturesque and instructive among them are certain hill tribes of northern India on the upper slopes of the Himalaya mountains in the state of Hunza A Dr McCarrison provincial medical officer had charge of them for nine years During all that time he met no case of illness except through accidental causes or injury The people are of magnificent physique lithe powerful handsome of astounding endurance and amiable disposition but ready to fight valiantly for a good cause They live almost entirely on what they raise—grains vegetables fruits fresh dried and—on feast days—goat's meat

It has been argued by experts that the best diet consists of those foods which are raised on the same soil as the humans who eat them Thus the same minerals become incorporated in the plants and in the animals which live on the plants It is not surprising therefore to learn that these Himalaya folk are almost as they are by the foods they eat live and keep hardy and vigorous to very great age with all their faculties unimpaired When wholly worn out it is the tribal custom to place the meagerly clothed husk in a specially shaped basket and drop it over a high precipice

There is one phase of the life of this particular tribe which the doctor does not stress yet it may account for the enviable freedom from illness which the tribe enjoys It may be noted that the tribe lives on the upper slopes of the Himalaya mountains Readers will recall that the Himalaya range is the highest in the world and thus the upper slopes of the Himalayas become the rarified thin air Way it not be possible that the elevation it occupies the pure mountain air it breathes the freedom from smoke and soot it enjoys and possibly other similar advantages may have as much to do with the health of the tribe as the natural life it leads and the food it eats?

There can be no question but what all of us would be more healthy were we to live less artificial lives and to eat less of the foods we grow in the locality in which we live We might do well to emulate this Himalaya tribe in this respect But the members of the tribe certainly have a mighty odd method of disposing of their ancestors

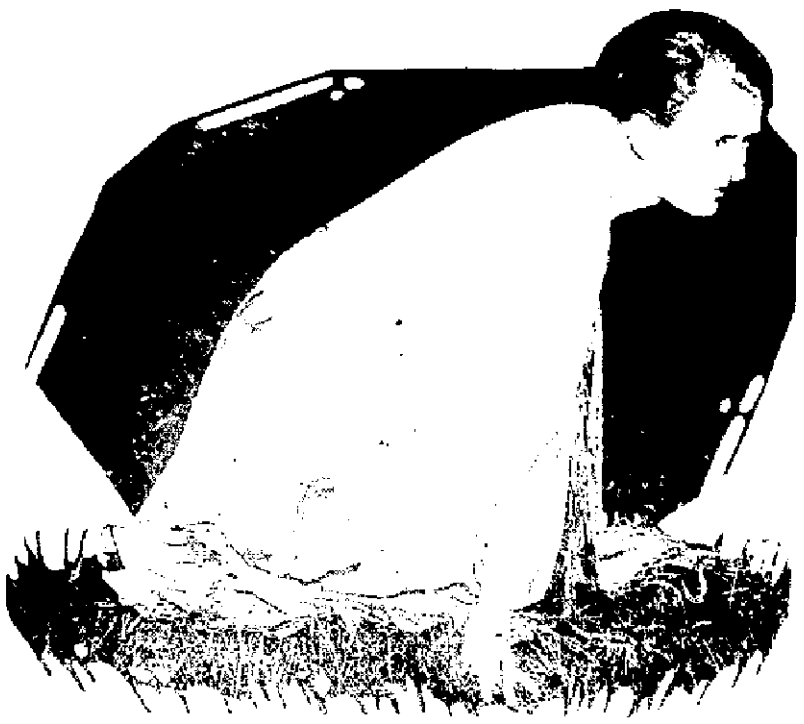
The PENNY PRINCESS

COPYRIGHT 1927 by NEA Service

by Anne Austin



She sank down in the wet grass. It was not Jerry Macklyn, after all, who waited her.

Begin Here Today

JERRY MACKLYN, advertising manager of the Peerless Bloom Cosmetics Co., transforms his plain secretary, VERA CAMERON, into a beauty through use of the company cosmetics and proposes to use her photographs in advertising booklets. The beauty specialist, in refashioning Vera, copies a picture Jerry finds in his desk, an enamel colored picture of a beautiful woman.

Jerry falls in love with Vera, and his love persists even after he learns she is in love with a man who ignores her. Vera goes to Lake Minnetonka for her vacation because this man, SCHUYLER SHYTHE, is there. Seattle and other guests gasp when Vera, VIVIAN CRANDALL, exquisite, who, after a Paris success, is in hiding. Vera tries to maintain everyone of her true identity but is not believed. When she realizes Schuyler is in love with the girl he think she is, she finds further confession difficult. NAN PEDDICK, who presents Vera of stealing Schuyler's love from her, leaves the hotel and apartments notifies the Crandalls that their daughter is at the Minnetonka.

THURSTON, hotel manager, has Vera and Schuyler watched. They meet on the pier at midnight and while there a hollow breaks Vera would that she is wanted at the hotel. Knowing it is detectives, she and Schuyler flee in a sedan car, Schuyler telling her they must marry that night.

Hoping he loves her for herself alone, she confesses the truth to him, substantiating her identity with Jerry's letter. He is furious. However, Schuyler decides Vera is just trying to ditch him and is Princess Vivian after all, and he tries to retrieve. They are stopped by masked men who take Vera with them.

Schuyler returns to the hotel and tells detectives what has happened. He also tells them he and the ex-princess were on their way to be married. He still believes Vera is Vivian. In the meantime Vera is whisked to an open clearing where an airplane awaits.

Now Go On With the Story

CHAPTER XXXI

"I SHALL run those silver slippers, Vee-Vee reminded, as she stumbled along on her high-heeled evening shoes over the sodden field from which a crop had evidently been recently cut.

"Reckon you won't need 'em for a few days," the more well-heeled man of the two assured her cordially. "Ain't much further. There's our bird right over there." He pointed to where a giant pair of wings hugged the ground. "Guess we ought to have given you a pair of rubber shoes out of that bag of yours that the gardener is keeping for you."

"My bag?" Vee-Vee echoed in intense surprise. "Do you mean that you have some of my clothes in that bag?"

"Sure, lady," the moon-faced man chuckled.

"How did you get my things? Did you break into my trunk?"

"Oh, that was easy," the moon-faced man assured her. "Just had to give the housemaid on your floor the hotel a few cigs to turn the trick for us. Hope he picked out the things you like best, but we can't guarantee that."

"Don't talk so much," the other man snapped. "Here's a heavy coat for you, lady. May be a bit big. It's an overcoat of mine. But it will keep you warm. You can tie your head up in a corner of that shawl-thing of yours. How this old flying flivver don't cut up no pranks tonight," he added apprehensively to his partner in crime.

"Sorry it ain't a real up-to-date engine, mess," the moon-faced man chuckled. "But there's plenty of room for three, if you don't mind a bit of squeezing. And there's gas enough to keep us in the air the rest of the night. Hop in, mess, and let me cramp you in," he added, after Vee-Vee had slipped her arms into an enormous, long, rough-textured overcoat and had obediently wound a corner of her shawl tightly about her head. "I must say you're a good sport, miss. Most flappers wouldn't been telling their beads off, or trying to claw our eyes out."

Vee-Vee laughed, a little thrill of excitement quickening her nerves, as she allowed herself to be helped into the rear seat of the airplane. The moon-faced man took his place beside her, and buckled the broad leather strap that was to hold her securely.

The girl shivered and clenched her hands in the big pockets of the overcoat as the mechanical bird taxied bumpily across the field, then began to rise almost imperceptibly, on a long slant.

"Oh!" Vee-Vee gasped, her hands flying out of the pockets of her coat and clasping her stomach involuntarily for the ground seemed to be shrinking at her straining to keep her.

After a long time, during which she had clung, entirely overhead now, over the edge of her seat, except in the precaution of the leather straps that girdled her waist, watching with supreme satisfaction and wonder the landscape flying past her, she tapped to the moon-faced man and smiled proudly.

She saw that he was talking through a speaking tube, with the evil-faced one in the pilot's seat, but she could not distinguish a word. But it did not matter. Nothing mattered but that she was having the supreme experience of her life. That a thought that had been trying for many minutes to get her attention forced its way through her childish pleasure in flying. Jerry Macklyn had said he would come to her assistance in an airplane, if necessary. Why hadn't she realized before that in all probability Jerry had done this for her, had, in some mysterious manner, learned of the predicament she was in and had devised this bizarre method of escape for her?
